

WILLS & ESTATE PLANNING

WILLS FOR BLENDED FAMILIES

Protecting everyone you love ♥

Blended families bring love, connection and new beginnings – but without a carefully written Will, your wishes may not be carried out as you intended.

WHY IT MATTERS

Without a Will, your estate may not go to the people you'd choose.

Your spouse or partner may inherit everything – leaving nothing for your children.

Children from a previous relationship may miss out if you don't plan properly.

A well-drafted Will brings peace of mind and protects family harmony.

KEY CONSIDERATIONS FOR BLENDED FAMILIES

PROVIDE FOR YOUR PARTNER

Ensure your partner is financially secure during their lifetime with gifts or income (e.g. via a Life Interest Trust).

PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN

Decide what your children will inherit, and when. A Trust can help ensure they benefit at the right time – not before.

USE TRUSTS WISELY

Trusts give you control over how and when your assets are passed on, helping to protect young or vulnerable beneficiaries and reduce Inheritance Tax.

APPOINT GUARDIANS

If you have children under 18, appoint people you trust to care for them if the unthinkable happens.

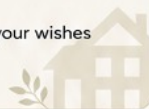

KEEP COMMUNICATION OPEN

Talk to your partner and children about your wishes. Open conversations today can prevent confusion and conflict tomorrow.

EXAMPLE SCENARIO

You are married to your second partner and have two children from a previous relationship. You want your partner to be provided for during their lifetime, but you also want your children to inherit when the time comes.

- ✓ Leave your home to your partner for life.
- ✓ Use a Trust so your children inherit after your partner or at a set age.
- ✓ Ensure everyone is provided for, and your wishes are respected.
