

Why Storing Your Will

SAFELY MATTERS

Protecting the most important document you will ever write.

A carefully drafted Will is only useful if it can be found, in good condition, when it's needed most. Where you keep the original matters more than most people realise.

THE RISKS OF KEEPING IT AT HOME

Lost or misplaced

Especially during a house move or after a long time in a drawer or loft.

Damaged by fire or flood

Household damage can destroy the only original signed copy.

Accidentally destroyed

Paper documents can be damaged, torn or thrown out by mistake.

Not found by executors

If no one knows where it is, your estate may be treated as if you had no Will at all.

THE BENEFITS OF SECURE STORAGE

Protected from damage

Kept in secure, fireproof storage away from household risks.

Easy for executors to find

A clear storage certificate tells them exactly where to look.

Storage certificate provided

Proof of where your Will is kept, to share with your executors.

Affordable peace of mind

Secure storage costs just £50 per year.

DID YOU KNOW?

If your original Will cannot be found, the courts may presume it was deliberately destroyed and treat your estate as if you had never made one — meaning the rules of intestacy would apply instead.

Your Will. Safely kept. Easily found.
